

Xbox 360 Faceplates to Customize your Xbox

Last Updated Sunday, 01 March 2009

By Roberto Garabell

Now that you have your Xbox 360 and you're spending every minute you can with your new toy, how do you take your gaming to the next level? Let everyone know how serious you are by getting custom Xbox 360 faceplates. Any schmuck can have an Xbox but what sets you apart from those who dabble in gaming is having your very own customized Xbox 360 faceplates. With customized faceplates you can put your own distinct personality and take on gaming onto your Xbox. Whether you want Xbox 360 faceplates to match you or your favorite games there is a faceplate out there for you.

Why Bother?

Your first thought might be why bother at all with getting faceplates. Your Xbox is fine the way it is. Think again, your shiny new Xbox is not always going to stay that way. Over time there are going to be scratches on your Xbox. Do you really want that? To keep your Xbox looking new and shiny get Xbox 360 faceplates and protect your Xbox from scratches and at the same time make it uniquely yours.

Retro to Out There

You can make your Xbox look seriously old school with Xbox 360 faceplates that come in wood grains for that cool vintage look thats always in. Or find a design that says you whether in color or the design. You can even customize your Xbox 360 faceplates yourself by designing your own faceplates with a skin template. The point is that whatever you want your Xbox to look like there is something out there that will definitely make you want to pimp your Xbox.

Look for faceplates that are easy to remove so that the next time you feel like upgrading the look of your Xbox you can without leaving any of that sticky stuff that most stickers leave behind. You want something that will stay on but not something that is impossible to take off. Having the same faceplates all the time would be so boring so leave yourself the option of future customization.

And if you really like your design make sure that its something that will last. Look for faceplates that have a protective layer. This will keep your faceplate from fading any blurring into a mess when its exposed to heat and direct sunlight. Vinyl faceplates are probably your best bet. They look great and they will last long while youre in between faceplates.

Learn more about Spy Gadgets, how to open file formats and Cool Gadgets. Visit Xbox 360 Faceplates to Customize your Xbox.

Gambling

{mos_sb_discuss:2}